CengageNow (<http://cengagenow.com>) is the Cengage publishing corporation's own learning system. The full e-book version of the same textbook is already included in your class CengageNow account purchased. Again, once you access to your Cengage account, full access to all e-book pages will be available to you without an additional charge. No Late Add Policy After Completion of 10% of Instruction and Coursework:

In order to protect Student Learning Outcomes and in order to maintain appropriate college-level accounting Course Integrity working within our intense and compact quarter system, No Adds will be allowed to this course after completion of the FIRST week of instruction, approximately the 10% of instruction (the most critical portion of an accounting course content) of a term.

14 Words Course Description: Study of Business Events and the Effects of Economic Transactions Reported on Financial Statements.

Course Objectives:

The primary objective of this course is to develop students' ability to understand and use accounting information effectively in making economic decisions. (Analyzing and communication accounting information that is useful for decision-making)

Accounting is too important to managers, organizations, and societies to be left to accountants alone. Accounting information is often a basis for decisions. Accounting reports are often the basis on which the effectiveness of stewardship decisions and actions are evaluated.

This introductory financial accounting course provides instruction in the theory and practice of accounting applicable to the recording, summarizing, and reporting of business transactions for external reporting and other external uses. Subject matter includes coverage of asset valuation, revenue and expense recognition, and appropriate accounting for asset, liability, and capital accounts. This course will be essential and useful "business language" for all business majors and anyone who is engaged in any type of business activities.

*"Tell me, I'll forget
Teach me, I remember
Engage me, I learn."
- Chinese proverb*

Course Learning management systems

De Anza accounting department is using a course management system called CengageNow (textbook publisher supported system) for all sections of Accounting 1A, 1B, and 1C courses. This system is rich in audio, visual presentations, online graded assignments and assessment quizzes. Unfortunately, CengageNow does not include course communication systems, such as class discussions, class announcements, student-to-student communication tools, nor topical discussion forum features.

For communication we will use Catalyst the De Anza College supported system. This will allow students access to the professor's lecture notes, class notes, learning resource materials as well as participate in forums where questions/comments may be posted. Once a student completes college course registration, the admissions office will forward the student's information to Catalyst. However, CengageNow requires students to register at their site with individual access code (included with new textbook or purchased at the publisher's website).

For the Catalyst and CengageNow login links and to start working with CengageNow textbook assignments, use the appropriate links established at the beginning of this syllabus.

Note: you will not be able to login to College Catalyst until first day of the term.

REQUIRED Textbook (or e-book) Purchase Options (Acct 1a/1b/1c):

Title of textbook (Acct 1a/1b/1c): ACCOUNTING 26th Ed., Carl S. Warren; James M. Reeve; Jonathan Duchac; South-Western/Cengage Learning Publishers: a hard-cover textbook contains a total of 26 chapters; De Anza Accounting 1A course portion of the book: ch.1-ch.9, 1B course portion of the book: ch.10-ch.17, and 1C portion of the book: ch.18-ch.26. (Total 26 chapters).

Textbook purchase options (3):

Option A: Buy one-third of the book from De Anza (or local) Bookstore in loose-leaf format. This option includes a quarter-long ACCESS CODE for the required online Internet access to CengageNOW. Homework, quizzes, and other tasks will be completed online at CengageNOW. This is probably the most straightforward and economical option. You should save your proof of purchase in case you are unable to complete the course. You may be able to get a replacement code from De Anza in the future if you drop or fail the course and you end up retaking it.

Option B: Buy directly from CengageNOW. You can buy ACCESS CODES with varying time limits and also full copies of the text. The code alone (while active) allows you to access the text in electronic format (e-book) and also to do the online homework, quizzes and tasks. Be sure to save your proof of purchase. If you follow this Option, be sure to use the special Cengage/De Anza microsite to purchase access. This may save you significant money compared to other Cengage online purchase pages. Remember, this code is only for online access...e-book only...no hardcopy text.

Option C: Buy the entire textbook from another source. In this case, you will still need to buy the ACCESS CODE for online access. This is probably the most expensive option.

Important reminder regarding CengageNOW registration: If you are using CengageNOW for the first time, please use your college official transcript name, the name you used when you enrolled at De Anza.

How to access your CengageNOW class site: (for MW section)

Connect to <https://login.cengagebrain.com/course/E-Y84E49TE5FC69>

Follow the prompts to register your CengageNOW course.

If you already registered an access code (purchased online) or bought CengageNOW code as a part of college bookstore custom packaged book, the course ID to register for this course is: E-Y84E49TE5FC69

Helpful Suggestions re: CengageNow Catalyst assignments:

1. To maximize your potential for a good grade, I recommend that you keep up with the reading and complete those homework assignments specified at both Catalyst and CengageNow, participate in the class discussions online as often as you can. Accounting is difficult if you do not read and study the chapters. Try not to get behind. It is difficult to catch up.
2. Each chapter has several end-of-chapter exercises and problems assigned. You will have access to work on all these assignments 24/7, with a specific due date.
3. All assignments will have deadlines. Watch these carefully. They are not accepted after the deadline! All due dates/times are posted at the site.
4. There are chapter “learning check tools” associated with every chapter in CengageNow. These learning activities are a quick check to see if you understand the material. They will also help you to study for the exams.
5. There are also interactive multi-media learning tutorials for each chapter as well as e-book and e-lecture clips at the site. These are an excellent narrated review of key chapter objectives.

COURSE ADMISSION AND WITHDRAWAL:

Please register for this course through De Anza College first. All students must be officially registered. Registering to the CengageNow site does NOT make you a registered student in the course; it only allows you access to assignments, quizzes, and participation in discussions. You must register for this course through the college and then setup a CengageNow account with a user name and password.

It is your responsibility to withdraw from the course; otherwise the appropriate grade will be assigned to your official college transcript at the end of the term. Please notify your instructor if you drop from the course. However, any enrolled students who have not done any course work (or course site registrations) by the end of State required class census due date, all “no activity” students will be identified as “no show” students.

Dropping “No Show” students: Title 5, section 58004(c) requires that “each district, by the end of the business of the day immediately preceding the census date, drop all students who are inactively enrolled in the course.”

Statement on Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity is expected from each student. Cheating and plagiarism in ANY form will absolutely NOT be tolerated. Cheating may appear to be a tempting short-run solution to a problem. In the long run though, those who cheat, really cheat themselves. You are in college to learn something that will be helpful later in life. If you fail to learn it, then you will have problems later on. In addition, the business and accounting world certainly does not need more dishonest people. Cheating and plagiarism is treated very seriously in this course and will result in a failing grade for either the particular exam/assignment or for the entire course. Both Division Dean and the Campus Judicial Affairs Officer will also be notified. This notification will result in a permanent record, which may affect your future academic and professional career. All coursework must be done by the enrolled student. All written work must be your own original work except where you quote others with proper attribution. Failure to do so will be treated as plagiarism. Some written work may be submitted to Turnitin.com to test for originality. Disruptive behavior is also not acceptable. Students who behave in a disruptive manner will be dropped from the course, at the discretion of the instructor.

Key to Successful Learning is Pre-class session preparation:

If you come to class (online or in-class) prepared but confused, you may not feel comfortable, but there is good chance you will leave with closure on most of the session learning objectives.

By contrast, if you come feeling comfortable but not prepared, there is good chance that you will leave totally confused.
